War is the sum-total of all crimes. Left to themselves no people would make war. War-makers are heartless, cunning, greedy All wars are for booty. The U. S. Wars bring slavery and conscription, debts and poverty for unborn generations even.

Karl Marx, Foster-Father of anti-Semitism

By C. LEON de ARYAN

Nowhere in the propaganda against Communism and Karl Marx appears the true aim and thought of Marx. Those who fight Communism are either ignorant or deliberately ignore the causes of Communism and the remedy thereof. Hence, the more opposition to Communism is fanned the better it thrives, everywhere in the world. Anti-Communism has become a racket which now is taking the form of world war III, without eliminating a single evil but communizing America, too, under the guise of fighting Communism. The regimentation, the bureaucracy, the unheard of burdens of taxation, the war powers of the executive, etc., all this is Communism. Yet fool Americans rush into it. Government by law —Americanism, is supplanted by government by bureaucracy—Communism.

Since I fail to note a true history, or inside story of the beginnings of Communism, as represented by Karl Marx, I shall present a sketch.

Karl Marx was born May 5, 1818. A Taurus, bear this in mind. His parents were prosperous Jews in Trier, Prussia, the father a lawyer. They became baptized in 1824, when Karl was yet 6. Renegades always despise those on whom then reneg, hence there was an undercurrent of anti-Semitism in the family.

As the boy grew, the antagonism against the Jews in Germany who exploited the non-Jews grew apace. Germany lived under the feudal land-holding system. Huge estates belonging to baronial parasites were being worked by the landless, or practically landless peasantry, who hardly received more than absolute necessities in return, while the nobility squandered.

In the cities the feudal land-holding system enabled the holders of valuable business land-titles to reap huge incomes from unearned increment in the commercial rental values. Both the agricultural increment from practically slave-peasant labor, as well as the increment from business locations in the cities, came out of the blood and marrow of those who worked for a living. Since the "nobility" in city and country lived high and squandersome, industrious and sharp Jews had a very profitable business in usury.

Usury becomes possible only where feudal land-holding deprives the worker of emergency savings. If his wages are not equal to the value of his labor, as his strength declines, he has to borrow money to tide him over a bad spot of sickness or other emergency. Also, the "noble" squander-maniacs run to the usurer when out of funds and mortgage their lands or future rental incomes. In industry, equally, if the businessman has to pay his own taxes as well as the taxes of his landlord, business lacks capital to expand or carry over emergencies, hence the usurer supplies the funds. Thus the foundation of usury is not in usury itself, not in the Jew who ruthlessly exploits the needs and frailties of his fellow man, but in the fact that feudal land-holding robs the producers for the profit of the titled ones.

By combining usury with titles, the Jews, then, became masters of the whole financial and industrial structure of Germany. Thus, Karl learned to hate them early. He hated them for the self-same reasons that his father became baptized. The kikes from Poland have always been a thorn in the side of the prosperous and educated Jews who had graduated from German universities.

In 1843 Karl was editing a review, the Deutsch-franzoesische Jahrbuecher. Only one number of it appeared. But therein Karl had two articles. One, a criticism of the treatment of the Jewish question as Bruno Bauer, leader of the Hegelian circle, the so-called "Freien", had presented. Marx contended that emancipation of the Jews could be achieved only by emancipation of society from Judaism, i.e., commercialism. The other article dealt with the victims of commercialism, whom he called the proletariat, and enunciated the idea that they could free themselves only by breaking all chains of commercialism, i.e., Judaism. Thus, Karl Marx identified Germany's oppressors with Judaism, named them the "Kapitalists" and for quite a period used the term "Jew" indiscriminately to mean Kapitalist, regardless of race or religion. Every rich German industrialist, whether Catholic, Protestant or Jew, was henceforth branded a "damned Jew" against whom Marx inveigled the hatred of the German, French, Belgian and Dutch proletariat.

In the early stage Karl Marx preached the liberation of Germany from the hated Jews: "The day of German resurrection will be announced by crowing of the Gallic cock", since in France Marx had found better response to his anti-Semitic harrangues against the hated Kapitalists, as the Jews and all ruling commercialists were lumped together.

In Paris Marx became very intimate with Heinrich Heine, the Jew who had mastered the German language in poetic expression. From then on, Marx became aware of the difference between "Jew" and Kapitalist. Slowly the hatred he had directed against the "Jews", as masters of the commercial machine, was being channelled against the rich per se. If one was wealthy that made him an unsocial criminal. Thus, step by step, the "proletariat" was indoctrinated to hate all successful and affluent individuals.

In 1848 the "Gallic cock crowed". The revolution broke out in February, and as Karl Marx had planned and predicted, it spread into Germany. But the German proletariat had been so deeply indoctrinated against the "Jews" by Karl Marx, they literally went after them. That is how Wendell Willkie's forebears happened to take refuge in America.

In England Marx learned to collaborate with Jewish socialists and from it was born the present Jewish - Communist conspiracy that murdered the Romanoffs in Russia, produced the Roosevelt newdeal in the U. S. A. and is now fanning the flames of world conflict between Russia and the U. S. A. The main urge of the Jewish Marxists is destruction. It matters not that in the process the slaves of Communists are slaughtered, too. Russia is a huge slave camp. If by pitching their Russian slaves the Communists can force adoption of Communism in America, thru a war against Russia, the scheme works. For to beat at war a totalitarian country, America must produce a ruthless militarism. And militarism IS COMMUNISTIC SLAVERY. Hence, the plan must succeed, figure the Marxian master-minds.

Ben Hecht Stirs Angry Resentment in Britain

LONDON,—An American whose name scarcely was known to the British public a few weeks ago has become Public Villain No. 1 to the British press. He is Writer Ben Hecht, vigorous champion of Jewish resistance in Palestine.

Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard, Lord Rothermere's Daily Mail, the mass-circulation Sunday Pictorial and several other major newspapers have joined in denouncing him.

Film Boycott Urged

This campaign reached its height when the Standard devoted its entire correspondence column to letters from readers, one calling Hecht "a Nazi at heart," two suggesting that films whose scripts were written by him be boycotted and seven others expressing similar sentiments.

Much quoted and bitterly assailed was his statement in a "Palestine resistance fund" advertisement addressed to "the terrorists of Palestine" as published in the New York Herald-Tribune of May 15.

"Every time you blow up a British arsenal, or wreck a British jail, or send a British railroad sky high, or rob a British bank or let go with guns and bombs at the British betrayers and invaders of your homeland, the Jews of America make a holiday in their hearts."

'Two Damned Fools'

Calling Hecht a "penthouse warrior", the Standard accused him of "gross chauvinism, distortion of history, indoctrination of children, preference of solutions through violence, race pride, the stoking up of hatred between nations, indifference to the sanctity of human life."

Rex Worth, in a special article in the Sunday Pictorial called Hecht and Walter Winchell "two damned fools" and said they were "condemned to stew in their own stupidity".

The Daily Mail said Hecht is a "vitriolic Zionist volcano with a touch of the carnival huckster", and printed an article by Gershon Agronsky, Zionist editor of the Palestine Post, who said Hecht is making himself responsible "for a criminal insanity that is killing Jews as well as Britons".

Hagana Murders Arabs for 'Retribution'

JERUSALEM — Accepting responsibility for the attack on Arab settlements near Tel Aviv, Hagana, the Jewish defense army in a communique states that this was not a "political action of Jewish resistance".

From all indications the attacks on the village of Feja, and El Yehudiye, in which the estimated dead range from 6 to 13, were in retaliation for the murder of Jews by the Arabs. Palmach, the Hagana's striking force is alleged to have killed 5 to 7 Arabs in Feja, and it is reported that Shlomo Miller, leader of the Jewish raiding party was wounded fatally.

Mertig Successful on Separate Peace Demands for Germany

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

Due to the cancellation of the meeting hall last night by the Jewish lessees of the Yorkville Casino, we have been compelled to hold our meetings during the month of June in the basement lounge of the Union Church, 229 W. 48th Street (West of Broadway), New York City

In spite of my having paid in advance a ten dollar deposit each on the four contracted meetings during June, the Yorkville Casino hall was cancelled without explanation.

I suppose that the Jew owners of the Yorkville Casino did not like to have the artist Hunt Diederich say a few words at our last night's meeting, after he was expelled by the National Institute of Arts and Letters.

All the man did is to have Senator Wherry's speeches of Jan. 29th, February 1st and 7th, 1946, printed at his own expense—and it took the U. S. Goverment Office six months to do so—and mail it out with a red rubber stamp printed on it "Censored by the Jewish Press".

What has become of freedom of speech and freedom of the press?

William Hunt Diederich was expelled by the Art Institute. He always had stated that he had distributed the pamphlets of Senator Wherry's speeches as coming "from members" of the National Institute of Arts and Letters—of which he was a founding member—and not "from the members" of that organization. He sinned against the Black-out of all information as to famine in Germany and Austria, which has been decreed by our present administration in Washington upon orders of the Sanhedrin.

Please do what you can to help me in delivering my message to as many people in the U. S. as possible and greatly oblige.

After we have come out for a separate peace during the Moscow conference, we feel that we would not live up to our conviction, if we were forced to give up our agitation now, when the sentiment for a separate peace apparently is spreading.

What I have been advocating in your paper since two years (and for which the "chosen people" openly threatened to have me denaturalized) is now being printed even in the kept press.

I believe I was among the first who appealed to the American public for a separate peace, when everybody should have realized—while the Moscow Conference was going on—that the U. S. was being kidded along.

How drunken bums could fool the American people for fourteen years is beyond me.

Sincerely, KURT MERTIG.

Pelley and "Seditionist" Appeal

WASHINGTON,— Coincidentally two interlocked cases were argued before the Court of Appeals here. One was an appeal of the Department of Justice from the dismissal by Chief Justice Laws of the U. S. District Court of the long-pending "sedition" dismissal indictment. In his opinion the Chief Justice had stated:

"I can reach no other conclusion than that there is a serious doubt as to the validity of these (sedition) cases. More than eight months is an abnormally long time to be required by the prosecution to establish guilt in a clear case . . . . If these defendants are guilty, it would seem that any serious doubt as to their guilt would be resolved by able counsel and investigators of the Department of Justice . . . .

"The defendants have been before the Court on these charges for nearly four and one-half years. (Now about five years.) All of them were brought here from other parts of the country to stand trial . . . . I do not see how these defendants now can possibly obtain fair trials . . . Under the circumstances, to permit another trial . . . would be a travesty on justice. I have no doubt the cases should be dismissed."

In support of the appeal from that judgment Tom Clark's representative maintained that Justice Law's act was an abuse of judicial discretion. He further attempted to throw the blame for any delay on the defendants. As an indication of the weak case it had, the Department of Justice went outside of own personnel and hired a well known Washington lawyer, Wm. Leahy, at an enormous fee, to make the chief argument which was loud and emphatic but devoid of substance.

In opposition many briefs were filed by attornies for various defendants. The oral argument was participated in by only three, however. Gerald Winrod's attorney, Mr. E. Hilton Jackson led off the arguments. Next came Lawrence Dennis in his own behalf who was allotted five minutes which he employed most effectively. He confined himself to the points, first, that the decision of Justice Laws was not appealable and, second, that the Court of Appeals was not competent to take issue with Laws because the latter knew vastly more about the case than the Appeal justices could possibly know or discover from the formal record.

The third and closing argument by Attorney Dilling brought out strongly the important point that in cases of this kind generally, and specifically applied to this particular from the first, the action of one defendant was applicable to all the others unless specific objection was made. This was in answer to Leahy's main specious and actually irrelevant point that only a comparatively few individual defendants had moved for a "speedy trial" as guaranteed by the constitution. At various times from the end of the trial to the dismissal different defendants have tried to get action. One such effort would have been sufficient to save the point.

The other case argued two days later was that of Wm. D. Pelley who was convicted of "sedition" in Indianapolis, confined for a time in the federal penitentiary in Terre Haute and then brought to Washington for the mass "sedition" trial. His conviction was appealed to the Court of Appeals and the U. S. Supreme Court but reversal denied. Since then he has discovered additional grounds for appeals and, endeavoring to seek relief, sought a writ of habeas corpus in the federal court in Indianapolis. This was denied on the ground that that court had no jurisdiction because Pelley was in Washington on a habeas corpus ad prosequendum (for the purpose of being prosecuted). He then applied for relief here in the same way which was denied on the grounds that the court had no jurisdiction because Pelley was an a habeas corpus ad prosequendum only. The Court of Appeals was then applied to in an effort to discover just how Pelley was to go about obtaining certain relief which seems to be his right.

The connection with the mass "sedition" case lies in the fact that if it were finally dismissed there would be no habeas corpus ad prosequendum. So long as there is doubt, it gives the serpentine Department of Justice the means to continue giving Pelley the grand run-around, and that indeed, may be one of the chief reasons why the "sedition" case is kept extant beyond all reason and justice. This nasty situation can be continued for some time in this case, for, if the Court of Appeals, in the present case, upholds Justice Laws, the Department of Justice can consume quite a few months more in the routine of appealing further to the Supreme Court.

The Court of Appeals here consists of six justices, three of which usually sit in any particular case. In these cases Justices Groner (Chief) and Miller sat in both. Justice Edgerton was the third member in the "sedition" case and Champ Clark in the Pelley matter.

Decisions in this court, especially in criminal cases, are not usually long delayed.

These cases are very important if for no other reason than showing how innocent individuals may be kept in the toils for long indefinite periods without due process of law. Only the pen of a reincarnation of a Charles Dickens could be expected to do justice to the iniquitous process.

Good

This is our Judgment Day

Are things going to be worse or better? This is the question everybody asks. And the answer is qualified. For him and her who gives up to God, life goes for better. Whoever carries on stiff-neckedly against the universal principles operating thruout all of God's creation, is going to be worse off.

First of all, financially in general, times are getting harder since a huge public debt takes a greater toll of our income and industry is a tax-collector for the usurers before it gives any value in goods and services.

Second, dictatorship thru bureaucracy, which is Communism, proceeds unabated. It takes on different forms, but it is the same old Communism labeled: DEFENSE. And to this bugaboo your children, your liberty, your wealth are sacrificed. You are afraid of not being "patriotic" if you refuse to sacrifice even good, plain common sense to the FEAR from Russian Communism. They show you the Russian Communist, that you may ignore the march of Communism headed by Baruch, Rockefeller and the Pendergast machine which destroys the America of the Founders, government by law and supplants it with government by "directives" and bureaucracy, as in Russia.

Communism is conquering America from within and therefore Russia is being helped to arm to put FEAR into us that the military caste, stooges of Baruch's Sanhedrin, may take over.

There is a "foreign" Communism, directed by Moscow, and there is "native" Communism created by the "directives" and corruption from the very White House. To make you subservient to native corruption the Russian brand is held before the world's eye, driving everybody into the arms of Militarism which IS COMMUNISM.

What chance does the individual have to escape being a tool of the atheistic militarists who pervert even their oath of allegiance into brutish violence and devilish murder rule!?

There is no chance other than giving oneself up to God.

Groups are forming all over the nation who buy land in the mountains for a retreat from A-bombs and mob-hysteria. Leaders are springing up who urge co-operative living on religious and economic basis. What are we to do? What are you to do?

To expect that times will get better is sheer insanity. Times are getting worse, much worse. Everybody is bent on hell, for DEFENSE by armed force means 100% totalitarianism and that IS Communism where you become a slave of the State.

The only refuge is God. Give up to God, don't give up to the Devil!

Those who pin their hopes on human flesh, on human minds, on armed force, who draw the sword and train for murder are lost before they started.

Whether you consider it or not, you are going to die. Now, what is best in your judgment? For the last judgment is your own. God and the Christ leave you free to use your own judgment. What you decide, that is your future. You may either adhere to God and serve the Christ or you may harden your heart, stultify your intelligence and join the armies of satanic minds who prepare to bring more destruction upon themselves, their children and the world.

Once one gives up to God, then each will join one of the many groups which are forming now to perpetuate the human race in spite of the hell that is brewing. Wherever the divine inspiration leads them, there lies the future. Some will go to the mountains, others will remain where they are. Since we all must eventually die, it matters not when nor where. What matters is whether we die in God's service or the Devil's.

To strengthen one another in Faith, Understanding and Co-operation, these various groups, naturally, will pool their efforts. As far as THE BROOM is concerned, our editor has long since given himself up to God. It matters not to us when, where or how we die. For no human nor hellish power is mightier than God. What we are here on earth for is to learn to place our Faith in the Almighty and carry out His orders regardless of danger and hardships. We owe allegiance to Him and our life belongs in His service.

All who enlist and decide to throw in their lot with Christ must use their best judgment as to future conduct. In Christ's service we are one body with one interest. We help one another.

THE BROOM is merely a newspaper; a means of giving information, of inspiration to deeper Faith in the Almighty. We don't propose to rule your daily lives. Your judgment is your own. If you want to keep in touch with our Faith in God and never give up, you'll also have to maintain it. We cannot do it for you. You can spend your labor in maintaining War or in following the Christ.

"And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the Protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred honor."

Could it be possible that the High Intelligence which conceived these worlds and suns which navigate thruout eons of light-years in infinite space, over-looked the fact of humanity on this tiny speck of a planet? The Intelligence which conceived this marvelous organism, our bodies, thru which divine genius even finds expression, could it not have foreseen the trend of maniacs who set themselves up against the Spirit of the Almighty which is Harmony not Hell!?

Take heart my friend! All this is provided for. The maniacs and their satanic armies must first exterminate themselves and all who place their hopes on murder and rule by force. To prove this folly to the human mind, that it may choose the wiser path, this gargantuan demonstration is now going apace.

And, thus, each is tried and tested. Are you ready for God's Kingdom or do you still hanker after hell?

Humanity will survive, for the most cunning and devilish mind is puny before the Genius that produced the infinitude of worlds and populates them.

Judaic-Communism vs. Christian Americanism

America's Destiny is Aryan

"Daddy," asked Fred, "why did John say that he is all confused, when you talked to him? We had discussed with him these various problems at our home when we lived on Isla Vista before the war."

"Yes, Fred. But the war came along and even though he is a millionaire, or perhaps because he is one, he did not side with the pure principle of love of which he had spoken to us all the time, but with the murderous 'patriots'. One cannot serve two masters, God and Mammon; now, that the war is over and the results are worse conditions, he is confused, naturally, because he gave his life and allegiance to the wrong effort."

"What is wrong with the world, Daddy Kosti," chimed in Gladys. "Why does everybody assume, as John does, that nobody knows the truth and the solution to existing problems?"

"Well, Gladys, Mr. Bell attempted to illustrate it by taking the Tox-Eliminator as his text. He warns his followers that if they look to material reeds to lean upon instead of exercising their birthright as divine beings, as children of God, our Father, they will never be free from calamity. Only Bell does not present it the way we Zend-Aryan messengers do, even though what he says is true. He yet leans upon the Bible as his scriptural reed and crutch, while we Aryans dispense with all literature as the source of our Inspiration and accept none, but only directly from our Father, the living God, whom we call Mazda. The THOUGHT of Mazda is the sole authority we rely on. This THOUGHT is active now, producing and maintaining the innumerable universes you see at night within the firmmament, and it is our book of Revelations of HIS infinite THOUGHT."

"That's the point, Fred. Bell owns nothing for himself except in the Service of the Christ, therefore, he is quite clear in his mind, aim and methods, even though he personally makes plenty of mistakes, as do his followers, too. But they learn by their very errors to hold closer to divine thought and purpose and not lean on human minds and flesh. But John holds with the rich, the worldly powerful rulers who make war and fool the masses, to rob, enslave and exploit them. Hence John, the millionaire, is miserable because he once had a taste of what LOVE, which is God, really can produce in our hearts, the bliss and promise, yet, now, he reaps the results of having backed the misery-producers on worldwide scale and is miserable, too."

"I don't quite get the Tox-Eliminator angle," remarked Gladys. "You took me to Dr. Melby in Los Angeles and we were happy to have found him, at the same time you say Mr. Bell is right, advising against the use."

"Well, darling, there is another example that is taking place right now at Palm Springs. A young and ignorant Armenian from Persia, Avak Hagopian, was flown over here to cure the epileptic Vaughn Arakelian, because Avak succeeded to cure other people in the East. Now Avak struck the same cord in himself on which Bell is playing too. Avak looks to God. But as much as he prayed, he could effect no cure because his patient is beyond the reach of that key-note. If one strikes a note on a musical string, there is a reverberation. All who respond sense the tune. But, you see, Vaughn does not respond, hence he cannot share in God's bounty which otherwise Avak called out in the hearts of his patients whom he succeeded in curing. The power to cure lies in our own hearts, it is the power of the LOVE of God. Strike that key-note, to the exclusion of everything else, and the most wonderful vision, Inspiration, strength and joy, pours upon you. That is called FAITH. And so Bell says, unless you look to this source of power in your life, the Tox-Eliminator will not cure you. And I say, Gladys, since you have not practiced what Bell recommends and are now materially crippled so that the colon muscles are paralyzed, use the crutch, start exercising the muscles while leaning on the crutch, but for STRENGTH turn your mind and heart to God, because in His divine THOUGHT lies the source of Life that will make you whole again so that you may reflect His image in the flesh and be His perfect child."

"Then, if John, were to turn to God and give his undivided allegiance to Christ in place of to the plans of the world-murderers and exploiters, John's confusion would clear up, too, and he would see what God has in mind for us to do here in earth and find our place and happiness," concluded Fred.

"Yes, my boy. The Aryan must never look to force and murder for the solution of his problems otherwise he becomes a criminal and loses his divine birthright."

TO FRED de ARYAN, Etc.
Dear Friend:

I thank you so much for your nice package. I thank you heartily for your love with which you have sent all the gifts. We are so glad to have wheat! I think it is the best food. I could not miss it. The suesse Broetchen tasted very well. We don't have such wonderful fruits in Germany. I am unable to express my thankfulness, but I hope you are able to feel what I wish to say.

Last week I took part in the work of the "TVSP" on the Ludwig str., near the Russian Zone. It was very interesting. The most people came from Germany, but we had very often visitors from other nations. I am glad that we have such a beginning in the work for peace and I hope that this little group may become greater, that it may challenge more people for this important work.

We had a dear American friend in our group —Grace Roads. She is a wonderful person. No work was too difficult for her. I loved her very much.

The more I learn foreign people the better I know that we all are a great acquaintance. The only thing which separates us are the different languages. Do you think in this way too?

We must not be so much narrow-minded and then we are not blind. So America seems to me not so much far away, because I know some hearts which feel like me.

Our thankfulness!

Yours, G. ——

P. S. Now I am going to cook a fine tea which I love and got from you! I must repeat that we are so very glad to have the wheat. If we had it not, I didn't know what to cook for supper.

NATIONAL MADHOUSE

By MADISON MONROE

TOO HOT TO HANDLE

"We fought a war to make Europe safe for the Jews. Why don't they stay put?"

Thus bluntly spoke Lady Nancy Astor, American-born member of the British Parliament, in a press interview upon her arrival here the other day. She was discussing the Palestine question.

Very few newspapers handled this bulls-eye shot at all, altho it was carried on all the press services. The out-and-out Jew papers dodged it entirely as did most of those in Gentile hands. With few exceptions those that did handle it toned it down in one way or another. While the N. Y. Times gave a whole column to Lady Astor's views, they were so twisted about as to give the impression she was a great friend to the "chosen people".

It is this kind of forthright comment that the Jews don't want. There is all too little of it in this country and for two reasons: (1) Our statesmen are too craven to utter boldly what they know full well and (2) when such plain facts are occasionally uttered, by accident or intention, the papers will not handle it.

Lady Astor's plain talk brings to mind Col. Lindbergh's famous Des Moines radio address when he said that the three organized forces that were pushing us into war at that time were: "The Jewish, the British and the New Deal." That was about the end of Lindbergh's public career. Even Lady Astor would not have spoken thus at that time. Lindbergh's three forces really amounted to one: the Jewish acting thru the American and British governments in which they were strongly entrenched.

The fact is, of course, that Europe has not been made safe for the Jews or anyone else despite the great destruction and loss of life any more than it has established the four freedoms "everywhere in the world". No place will ever be safe for the Jews for they will never abandon the parasitical rule-or-ruin policy.

Greenville Lynch Trial . . . Let's be Fair to the South . . . Leftwing Intolerance . . . Negroid Connecticut

By WASHINGTON ADAMS

WASHINGTON, May 29 (Special) — North Carolina, one of the most civilized of American States, has one hundred counties, and it is claimed that in 80 of its counties not one lynching ever occurred.

In some other counties there has not been a lynching in fifty years.

Civilized people have always opposed lynchings, except where the administration of the law had broken down and "vigilance committees" had to take over.

All our States have had lynchings except the six of New England. California has had 43, all white except two. North Carolina 99, of which 15 were white. South Carolina, with a little over half the population of its neighbor and nearly fifty percent of that black, lynched 155 Negroes and 4 whites.

In the 18 years from 1882 to 1899, inclusive, there were 2,745 lynchings in the United States. But only 1963 took place in the next 45 years, to 1944. Notice how they have decreased: figures for five years—1940—5, 1941—4; 1942—5; 1943—3; 1944—2. (Tuskeegee figures in "World Almanac" of 1946).

The progressive and civilized county of Greenville, S. C., did an unprecedented and civilized thing in publicly holding a fair and just trial of some 28 of its citizens for alleged participation in or being spectators at a "lynch"-execution of a young Negro criminal, Willie Earl, charged with the murder of one of their co-workers.

All the Red press and some even of the better newspapers of the nation have condemned the trial, although some of the excoriators admit that it was fair. It was a field day for leftwing radio commentators. Many openly condemned the WHOLE SOUTH, as though such law-abiding counties as those in the neighboring State of North Carolina which never had a lynching could have helped it or were responsible in any way for it.

An odd sort of a judge, named Lazarus, in faraway California, went out of his way to pass judgment upon a trial of which he knew almost nothing, and to condemn the court and the good citizens of the whole State of South Carolina, and the entire south.

There was one generally misunderstood and utterly FALSE statement published everywhere, that the 28 MEN HAD CONFESSED. They had done nothing of the sort.

They did sign STATEMENTS that they were there, but not one confessed himself as being the killer. Not one was sworn to.

Some statements did name a killer. BUT THERE IS NOT A CRIMINAL COURT IN ANY ENGLISH-LANGUAGE COUNTRY THAT WILL ADMIT AS EVIDENCE EVEN AN AFFIDAVIT OR ANY OTHER WRITTEN ACCUSATION BY A THIRD PARTY AGAINST A MAN ON TRIAL FOR HIS LIFE, and the judge properly so ruled.

Not one of the accused went on the stand. Not one person swore on the stand that he was present at the lynching.

Thus the jury, although they felt certain as to who did the killing, had no legal evidence to sustain a verdict of guilty, and so found for the defendants, "not guilty".

The preparation of the case seems to have been bungled by the Washington "F. B. I."

New York's radical "PM" newspaper published the picture of the semi-savage face of Godwin Bush, charged with attempted rape, who escaped from a mob in the black belt of North Carolina and is now in the State prison, awaiting trial. He will be duly tried and gassed.

It is the increasing number of such acts as his and countless others by the least civilized men of his race that will revive and increase lynchings in this country.

On the same day that the story of Bush's escapade was published, there appeared in the "N. Y. Daily News", the following: "Armed Negro Giant Ties Up Vet, Rapes His Pregnant Wife," near Trenton, N. J.

CONNECTICUT GOES "NEGROID"

The once-great "grand old American" State of Connecticut has become the fourth State to "go Negroid" by passing the infamous red law known as "FEPC"—to invite the cottonfield Negroes of the South to come into its urban centers and displace the native American whites, and also to "stack" the factories with "Russian Reds", whether the employers wish to hire them or not.

The red friends of the measure pulled a fast one, rushing it through the legislature, and stealthily kept from public notice that the great State of California had voted such a measure down by 1,000,000 majority.

The vote in the Connecticut House was 121 for, to 105 against, a majority of the Republicans being against the measure, but the solid New Deal vote added to a Republican minority brought victory for the mongrel measure.

The way the law works in New York, where it was pioneered by the apostate Dewey, is as follows: The "SCAD" leaders go to a company like the Brooklyn Gas Co., and say, "Hereafter you must cease hiring persons on the recommendations of your present employees. You must put ads in the Jewish and Negro newspapers when you wish more help."

The Reds keep an eye open for such ads and rush their own followers to take the jobs thus offered in the Negro and Jewish press.

In this fashion the Reds expect to infiltrate into every factory in the Negroid States of New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Connecticut, and are doing so.

These vicious laws are so framed as to forbid an employer to inquire into the background of an applicant for work.

Recently a great New Jersey factory closed its plant and will move most of its personnel and its entire equipment into Georgia, where it has plants in five cities, and where there is no danger of red infiltration via the "FEPC".

Truman Continues Pendergast Corruption

KANSAS CITY, — Evidence upon which a State Grand Jury returned 81 vote fraud indictments was stolen.

Thieves broke down two steel doors in the vault of the Kansas City Board of Election Commissioners and rifled the contents of three metal poll boxes, containing ballots, poll books and tally sheets.

This was evidence used by the Grand Jury during a two months investigation of alleged vote juggling in the August Democratic primary election, which attained national prominence when President Truman urged defeat of Rep. Roger C. Slaughter, Democratic Congressman from the Fifth Missouri District. Slaughter was running in a District adjacent to Truman's home District.

The theft took place less than 12 hours after the Grand Jury had completed its statutory term, with a report expressing belief that Slaughter had been deprived of the nomination through a miscounting of the ballots, thus giving victory to the President's selection, Enos Axtell. Axtell was defeated in the General Election by Republican Albert L. Reeves, Jr.

At Jefferson City, Grover C. Dalton, Republican State Chairman, declared that the theft indicates that the Pendergast machine is "just as rampant under the protection of Harry S. Truman as it was under Mr. Truman's mentor, Tom Pendergast."

He further charged that alleged failure of the FBI to investigate fully could be laid to what he termed Mr. Truman's encouragement of the revival of the Pendergast machine.

Kurt Mertig Wins in Gift Package Demands

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

As you will see from attached clipping, the weight limit of parcel post gift packages to Germany will be 22 lbs after June 15th instead of only 11 lbs as up to now.

I have been the first one—at least to the best of my knowledge—who took up this matter personally in Washington with the War Department and the State Department, then with ex-President Herbert Hoover, thereupon with all members of Congress by circulars and personal calls and finally I mailed out 15,000 postals to American citizens of German ancestry.

And last but not least should be mentioned the great help you gave me by publishing my petitions and appeals in this respect during the last three months in THE BROOM, for which a hearty note of thanks is due you from me and many thousands of U. Ref. Brink Must Respect Due Process

SAN FRANCISCO,—Justice Garrecht of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals here, in ruling that the order of Referee in Bankruptcy Brink be set aside after a short discussion with Justices Stephens and Orr, in effect rebuked the Bankruptcy Court for going outside its jurisdiction and denying Arthur L. (the Voice) Bell his day in court. From the transcript it becomes evident that the Appellate Justices do not approve the method used by the U. S. District Court in harrassing Bell.

Arthur L. BELL

It appears that Bell was being examined in the Referee's Court on the state of finances accruing to the bankrupt estate from its operation by the federal trustees. The Referee suspected Bell of conniving to steal monies from the income of the operations. He had no proof, merely his own suspicions and the suspicions of the Atty. Gen. of California, represented by Warren Olney III. That was the whole foundation upon which originally Bell was removed from the trusteeship of the Church by the State. He had never had his day in court then, and again Referee Brink denied him his day in court, but summarily ordered him to submit an itemized report of the monies or property that he has received from whatever source he has received it.

By examining the Attorney for the Federal Trustees, John Laurie Martin, Justice Stephens elicited the fact that Brink went on a fishing expedition outside his jurisdiction. That was exactly what the Atty. Gen. and Olney had been doing all the time. So Brink joined Olney in this illegal act of bankrupting the Church by prolonging litigation outside the authority and the purpose of bankruptcy law, on mere suspicion.

Justice Orr brought out the fact, in questioning Martin, that the Referee was concerning himself with gifts that were none of the Referee's business and on the flimsy suspicion that some of the gifts might be embezzled monies, of course, then, embezzled by the donors, the Referee ordered Bell to disclose his private affairs.

Justice Stephens brought out that even though members of the Church were to have made donations to Bell since Bankruptcy, what business was that of the Referee?

Justice Garrecht pointed to the absurdity of the assumption that the federal trustees had any right to the earnings of church members, earned after bankruptcy. Asked Garrecht: "Now does the bankruptcy (law) say they have to pay their earnings into bankruptcy for the rest of their lives?" Yet, Olney and Brink hounded Bell and snooped into his private affairs and that of the members of the Church.

JUSTICE GARRECHT: What really happened, they were examining Mr. Bell. You say that if he were receiving money from the estate and the examination was in progress, the Referee Benno M. Brink suddenly determined that that was a poor way to do it and said, "I am not going to submit this man to cross examination, he will just have to submit everything, he will have to tell us everything, and I will decide if it belongs to him or the Church." It was certainly proper for him to be there and relate all of the matters about assets of the estate. He can put in a report regarding those matters, and did. (Meaning Bell.)

And questioning Mr. Martin, Orr said:

JUSTICE ORR: Or you could say that the witness is to reveal everything of a personal nature; you can't reserve anything and then I will investigate that from the report. But in doing so you would be going so far out of line, I don't see how you have supported such an action at all.

And the whole White case "fraud" decision was based an exactly such "far out of line" rulings by Brink.

IT'S A LONG LANE, ETC.

By ELLIS O. JONES

Little Jack Warner was forced in a corner
Partaking of humble pie
He tried to act dumb as he murmured: "Ho hum!
"'Twas somebody else, not I."

The Jew Brothers Warner were perhaps the worst of the movie magnates in subverting the power influence of moving pictures to the fomenting of race hatred, to lying propaganda, to insidious misrepresentation, to war-mongering in all its evil and despicably brutal forms. No stone was left unturned in the all-out effort to make scoundrels out of Hitler and Mussolini while making heroes out of Stalin, Churchill and Roosevelt. The reckless mixture of fact and fiction in such pictures as "The Confessions of a Nazi Spy" was a scoundrelly piece of work no less than was the false "Mission to Moscow" in which Russia, its plans and deeds and rulers, were exalted.

But now the truth is catching up with these rascals. Awhile back Jack was smilingly receiving laudations from various quarters for his fine effort in winning the war, but now, after the un-American Activities Committee has started probing Hollywood, Jack is looking for alibis. When credit for "Mission to Moscow" suddenly turns to discredit, then he commences to lay the blame on his dead pal Roosevelt and others of the New Deal administration. Just for that, if for nothing else, Harry Truman ought to drag Warner Brothers and all their ilk over the coals in a big way, coals from the hottest furnace that can be found. This is no time for whitewash.

THE TRIUMPH OF UNARMED FORCES:

This book was first printed in 1923, and reprinted in 1928. For several years we have had an order in from the publishers, but we were informed they could not ship them out of the country; finally they came through recently, not a new edition but the same ones we got before the war, but it wasn't expedient to ship these books to America when we were at war and they were getting lend-lease. And finally not until the recent loan to Britain was made were they released. I hope every one of those preaching the kingdom message, who believe that Britain is going to survive the coming storm, will read this book. If they do, they can't believe in the law of cause and effect any more; it shows how Britain was supplying Germany with supplies all through World War I, all the necessities of warfare, including coal were being shipped from Britain to Germany all during the war, and they lied to America about it.

We have a dozen copies of this revealing book, which has been quoted freely, both in the House and Senate; and extracts from same have been printed in the Congressional Record. If you are in this fight, fighting the common enemy, the internationalists, here is plenty of ammunition right from headquarters. Is it authentic? Well, I should say so; it is written by Rear-Admiral Consett, assigned by Capt. O. H. Daniel, both of the British Navy; 344 pages, cloth bound, price $3.00 This is a "must" book, for it tells how Britain deliberately prolonged World War I, for profit.

Americans Not Peace Loving

A lot of people have repeated that hoary myth, and there may be a few who really believe it. But the sad truth is, that a lot of people want war—if somebody else will have to do the in-fighting and the dying. Back in 1931, a lot of people were saying that nothing but a war would make times good again. One man who said it to this printer, was an amateur preacher. The people who voted for Roosevelt's third term knew he was already in the war, and intended to go all the way. They wanted a war boom. Three times in the past month, ye printer has heard a woman remark that she would rather have another war than go back to things like they were under Hoover. People did not forget that 'leader' who said he would let American boys be killed before he would sacrifice any of Labor's gains. They knew Roosevelt endorsed that sentiment, so they voted for a fourth term. To say that 'common people' would not make war, is pure bunk.

There is nothing more repugnant to this printer than trying to force any person to do something contrary to that person's religious convictions. If that makes him a narrow-minded bigot, perhaps there are a few people who will concede that it is a form of bigotry not likely to injure anyone else.

Why are people of otherwise good intentions, obsessed by the doctrine, "Love me, love my dog"? They will let themselves be ruled by ruthless thugs, rather than cooperate with honest people who question even a little bit of some pet theory. The inevitable result is government by the most skillful liars who can pretend to be all things to everybody.

The only way a man can preserve his own rights, is by fighting for the rights of the other fellow.

Jewish Censors Fail to have Diederich Adjudged "Insane" by Courts

NEW YORK, — The National Institute of Arts and Letters unanimously expelled William Hunt Diederich, sculptor, for having distributed "anti-Semitic" literature under the Institute's name.

A few hours later he addressed a Yorkville meeting of some 75 persons arranged by Kurt Mertig. Diederich seemed pleased when his small but enthusiastic audience applauded him as a victim of the "Jewish press" and when he said:

"The Jews have the atomic bomb in one hand and the press in the other. They are pressing us into a corner. They are hogging everything in America.

"What I am saying is not an attack on the Jews. It is a warning. They are seeking world domination. This has got to stop."

There was no applause, however, when Diederich emphasized that he had "never been a Nazi" and didn't care much for Nazi philosophy.

In the course of his remarks, the sculptor distributed a pamphlet, printed at his own expense, containing a collection of speeches by Sen. Wherry (R-Neb). Across the covers Diederich had stamped, in red ink, the words "Censored by the Jewish Press".

Unanimously Expelled by Institute

Diederich had come almost directly to Yorkville from the meeting of the Institute of Arts and Letters at which, by a show-of-hands vote, members had unanimously adopted the resolution expelling him. Among them were Douglas Moore, president of the Institute and head of Columbia University's Music Dept., Hugo Ballin, Marc Connelly, Walter Damrosch, Edna Ferber and Deems Taylor.

A short time ago, the U. S. Attorney's office had sought a warrant for Diederich's arrest and an examination of his mental condition. Federal Judge Leibell denied the request on the ground that the artist, in using the U. S. mails had not maligned an identifiable person, but merely a "racial group".

San Diego Assessment Values

Commenced in 1945 in the business sections of San Diego, the reappraisal of all land values throughout the County will be practically completed by his office for the 1947-48 season, County Assessor Crowell D. Eddy reports.

The present land values, which have been materially increased in some sections this year, represent an adjustment in line with the general increase in market values.

Mr. Eddy pointed out, however, that building values have not been increased, and are still being assessed upon 1941 replacement values, since it is recognized that present inflationary building values are due to shortage of housing and necessity for shelter.

During the month of June deputies will be on hand in his office, Eddy said, to assist those taxpayers who wish to inquire about any changes which may have been made in their assessments for the 1947-48 period.

Just how rotten Congress is was proved when I sent copies of those letters to every Republican in Congress and received two replies! One was from Rep. I told him I was not surprised he should disagree with me since he supported the monstrous Austin-Wadsworth bill to regiment every American citizen.

Senator W. Lee O'Daniel of Texas, an infinitely better American than most of the Republicans, told me the corruption in Congress is almost inconceivable. The votes prove it.

O. P. A. and Communism

By ELENOR YORKE

The man opposing OPA Control is quite helpless to offer argument against it to the wage-earner who stubbornly insists that: "If it were not for the OPA my $30.00 a-month-rent would be $60.00 or even $80.00." Then he shudders at the mere idea of the latter and goes on to defend it. Anything you may say against it only tends to annoy and confuse our OPA enthusiast.

It is the fear and selfishness of the tenant against the fear, greed and selfishness of the landlord that has strengthened OPA Control—a measure strictly against the high principles of Americanism and the Constitution. A measure that has disrupted the housing system of the entire United States.

From a humanitarian, philosophic and progressive viewpoint the OPA is WRONG!

Why is it wrong? Because it is impossible, as well as unconstitutional, to create and enforce measures in which citizens of a nation are subdued and regimented by governmental laws.

Rent control may have given a certain small percentage of tenants the security of their low priced rentals—but what about the vast majority of people who were not situated when the law went into effect.

(1) the returning service man
(2) the newlyweds

What benefits have these people received? NONE. They have been the victims of every type of real estate and rent racket in existence. In a world as chaotic as ours is today, LAWS and control measures only add to the confusion.

We must appeal to those people who regard rent control as a God-send to realize they have already endangered the housing situation of the nation.

OPA control has brought out the very worst in man. It has manifested evils more far-reaching and much greater in intensity than those we would have experienced had there been no OPA in the first place. It has been beyond the OPA employees to handle their jobs fairly, squarely and efficiently.

The OPA is just another so-called "humanitarian" law which on the surface looks so good to the "common man" but in the light of intelligent analysis is nothing but a dastardly, communistic enforcement designed to control and confuse the people FOR ONE PURPOSE ONLY —it is a definite step towards the regimentation of our beloved America.

OPA is unconstitutional.
OPA is un-American.
OPA must be abolished!

Editor's Note: Depriving the owners of rented houses of a fair return, OPA has contributed to housing deterioration, discouraged private housing construction for rentals and destroyed the faith of Americans in the fairness and intelligence of government. That's what "they planned to do" in the first instance thru OPA.

Avak Sick and Tired of Publicity Racket

PALM SPRINGS, — Almost 4000 sick, lame and blind people confronted Avak, but the bearded mystic said:

"I am leaving. I am so tired. I must find rest."

Hotels were jammed and record-breaking throngs began camping outside the rambling Spanish mansion of Krikor Arakelian.

Arakelian is the millionaire winemaker who brought Avak Hagopian halfway around the world from Iran in an effort to cure his son, Vaughn, 37, of epileptic seizures.

Police Recalled

Arakelian's block-square home was once owned by Barbara Hutton, the dime-store heiress. It had no room for these mobs of the sick. They overflowed to the O'Donnell Golf Course and near-by grounds. Police Chief August Kettmann had to recall vacation-bound police to keep order and direct traffic.

The Welfare and Friendly Aid Association helped the Arakelian family in distributing coffee, milk and sandwiches to the throng waiting for a chance to see the young Armenian faith healer, for a chance to touch his cloak.

By morning Avak shrugged hopelessly.

Will Leave Friday

Two of Arakelian's sons, Diran and Eddie, said he will see a small group with appointments, then they will take him to a mountain hideaway "somewhere in California".

"This is the decision of Avak," they said.

They pointed to the crowds—rich and poor. Some had come in ramshackle jaloppies. Some had flown thousands of miles in luxury.

"It is a pity that some pawned their last possessions to come to Palm Springs," said the Arakelians. "Please urge others not to do so. Avak has seen about 8000 people. After his two weeks' rest he may return straight to Iran."

City officials, alarmed by street crowds, said many indigents may be stranded here.

KARMA PREVAILS

The condition of Vaughn Arakelian, the real reason of Avak's visit, was repored ironically: "unchanged".

Avak Attends Communion Service

LOS ANGELES, — While hundreds pressed into the Armenian Apostolic Holy Cross Church and other hundreds milled around outside to catch a glimpse of Avak, Armenian faith healer, here from Palm Springs to attend a Holy Communion service, children were nearly trampled, an elderly widow fainted and police hurried to help curb the pushing throng.

Though the mystic's proposed attendance at the Mass was unannounced, the word had been passed around. Two hours before the car bearing him pulled up at the church, 420 E. 20th St., a crowd of the curious, the hopeful and the believing began to gather.

Early arrivals filled the church to normal capacity. Ushers directed late-comers to standing room along the side aisles and at the back of the shallow balcony. Those for whom there was no room stood outside to greet the honor guest.

PATH ROPED OFF

As soon as Mass began, churchmen stretched ropes to clear a path to the door for Avak, known among his countrymen for reported cures through prayer. Inside the edifice, Archbishop Mampre Kalfaian, wearing the rich vestments of the Armenian Apostolic faith, led the worshipers in preliminary devotions. There was a tenseness of anticipation, however, that sacred music and chanted petitions failed to calm.

When Avak, the goldsmith and mechanic who laid aside the tools of his trade to minister to the suffering of the world, arrived in the company of a group of his wealthy desert hosts, ropes failed to hold back those who would touch the long, flowing brown cassock he wore. One believer fell prone to the sidewalk and kissed the hem of the simple monastic habit.

Place Reserved

The raven-haired healer strode rapidly toward the entrance as the crowd pressed in around him. Children cried as parents reached to rescue them from falling underfoot. Uniformed policemen held back the overflow at the door when every available space inside had been filled — the steps, the aisles, even the passageway behind the altar rail.

For Avak a special place was reserved. It was an altar chair on a rug-covered dais facing the altar. It was inside the altar rail, yet not upon the rostrum.

The Archbishop continued the service without interruption. He spoke above the noisy turmoil occasioned by Avak's arrival.

At the conclusion of the sermon, Communion was celebrated. First to be served the sacramental bread was the honor guest. Avak laid his hands upon the unleavened wafers wrapped in a fine linen cloth, folded the top one and took it for himself before the deacon, J. Kapamajian, passed the symbolic "body of Christ" to the throng of worshipers.

WOMAN DIES ON WAY BACK FROM AVAK VISIT

Ministrations of Avak, the Armenian mystic, were counted a failure by Paul H. Jimenez, 47, of Salinas, in the case of his mother, Mrs. Maria de Leon, 70, of King City.

Jimenez said he took his mother, a cancer patient who had been treated at Salinas County Hospital the last three years, to Palm Springs where Avak granted her an interview.

Afterward, Jimenez said, his mother declared she felt much better. They started home, but at Garvey and Big Dalton Avenues in the Baldwin Park district she became ill and lost consciousness. She was taken to Covina Hospital where half an hour later she died.
